Riverside Valley Park's green space is shared by people, wildlife and grazing cattle.

Working with

Riverside Valley Park stretches for just over a mile alongside the River Exe.

A walk from one end to the other will take around 30-40 minutes. The route is level along paths and tracks through waterside meadows with good views of Exeter, its cathedral and the river.

Detours lead you to other parts of the Valley Park. A wetland with bird hides and a wooded section known as 'Leaf Land' provide a contrast to the open feel of this beautiful city green space.

Riverside is one of six Valley Parks in Exeter. Begin to explore the others at www.devonwildlifetrust.org

Visiting Riverside Valley Park

Riverside Valley Park lies a mile to the south east of Exeter city centre. Main entrances to the Valley Park can be found via:

- Bridge Road (Countess Weir)
- Clapperbrook Lane (Marsh Barton)
- Salmon Pool Lane (St Leonards)
- Exeter Ship Canal and cycle route

Combine your visit with a walk to nearby Ludwell Valley Park. See www.devonwildlifetrust.org for more details.
