

Devon
Wildlife Trust

Barley Valley Park

One of many beautiful places looked after by Devon Wildlife Trust

Map of Barley Valley Park

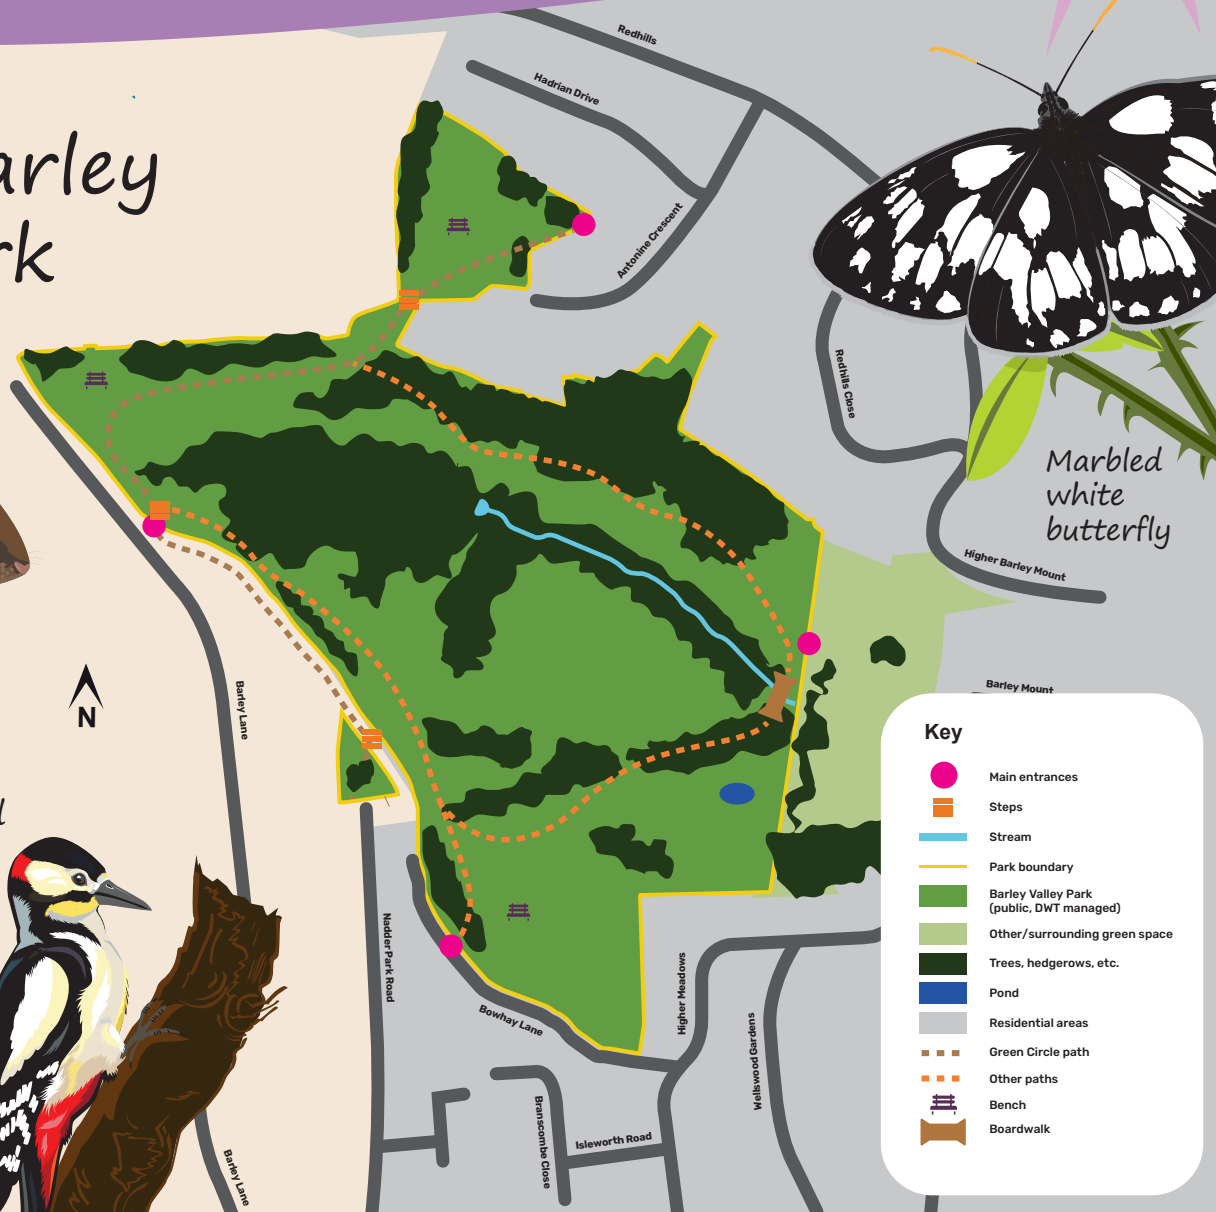

Field vole

Great spotted woodpecker

Marbled white butterfly

Key

- Main entrances
- Steps
- Stream
- Park boundary
- Barley Valley Park (public, DWT managed)
- Other/surrounding green space
- Trees, hedgerows, etc.
- Pond
- Residential areas
- Green Circle path
- Other paths
- Bench
- Boardwalk

Supported by Viridor Credits Environmental Company and The Dixon Foundation

devonwildlifetrust.org

Protecting Wildlife for the Future

Barley Valley Park is a rich mix of woodland and grassy meadows. Its position on the western edges of Exeter means that it provides visitors with wonderful views across the city.

Exploring Barley Valley Park should take around 45 minutes. Longer walks can be enjoyed by joining the Green Circle path as it passes through its northern edge.

As you wander look for woodland birds including great spotted woodpeckers and butterflies including meadow browns and marbled whites.

Barley Valley is one of six Valley Parks in Exeter. Discover the others at devonwildlifetrust.org.

Visiting Barley Valley Park

Barley Valley Park is in the Redhills area of Exeter, a mile and a half to the west of the city centre. Main entrances to the Valley Park can be found at:

- Antonine Crescent
- Barley Lane
- Higher Barley Mount
- Bowhay Lane

See devonwildlifetrust.org for more visitor information.

About us

We are a charity and rely on your support – through membership, donations and gifts in Wills – to care for places like this.

Want to find out more?

Go to www.devonwildlifetrust.org to learn about the work we do to protect Devon's amazing wildlife and to discover other wild places to explore.

Registered Charity no. 213224